Gaudin of the Alberta department of industries and labor, met Friday to discuss union demands. Agreement was reached to give the workers a basic wage of 50 cents an hour for a 44-hour week with double time for Sunday work and time and half for all other overtime.

There was a provision in the agreement that for the paving companies employees shall not be less than the basic wages for civil engineering, including the cost of living bonus.

Other points on which management and employees reached agreement included a "maintenance of membership" clause and seniority provisions.

Administration of Premier Marie Resigns Over Wages, Prices Issue

PARIS, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The resignation of the French government of Premier Andre Marie resigned early today over the issue of wages and prices which had plagued the coalition cabinet since its inception.

The toppling of the government, the 10th post-war French cabinet, plunged France into what may be one of its gravest political crises. Marie had been in office since July 27.

France was left technically without a foreign minister, but former Premier Robert Schuman will, however, continue to fulfill the duties of his post until a new cabinet is formed.

UNSUCCESSFUL STRUGGLE

The cabinet resignation came after an unsuccessful two-day struggle to draft wage and price reforms.

The two-day cabinet discussion concerned Renault's plan for increases in the prices of such products as milk, bread, rail fares and tobacco.

Renault had agreed to raise wages 10 per cent in wages, which are controlled by the government.

The Socialist, worried about the reaction among their restless labor force, wanted immediate salary increases of from 15 to 18 per cent.

Amidst the dilemma of French politicians, the figure of Gen. Charles de Gaulle loomed large. He and his followers in the National Assembly had been expected to renew their pressure for dissolution of the government and new elections.

Paint Brushes Should Always Be Cleaned

Good brushes are necessary in order to do a good paint job, and good brushes cost money, but, if properly cared for, they will last a long time. Brushes should be firmly set in a rubber or composition base in such a way that it is difficult for them to work loose. Cheap brushes shed their bristles easily and retard workmanship.

The size of the brush should depend on the job. A brush that is so large that its weight causes it to sag in a short space of time is no labor saver. For walls and ceilings, the average person likely will find a four-inch brush ideal. Mouldings, window-cases, shelf edges or trim in a short space of time is no labor saver. CLEAN BRUSH THOROUGHLY
Avoid letting paint, varnish, shellac, etc., become hard on a brush. When the job is finished, clean the brush thoroughly before putting it away. Turpentine is best to clean out a brush has been dipped in oil paint or varnish, but brushes for shellac should be cleaned in alcohol sold for this purpose. After every trace of paint or other material has been removed wash the brush in soap and warm water, and either put it away on its side or hang it up where it will be free from dust. Never allow the brush to stand on its bristles or they will become bent.

Special Tax Squad Chases Up Dollars

Government Sleuths Keep Eye On Extra-Heavy Spending Boys

By Dick Jackson
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau
OTTAWA, Aug. 28.—Revenue Minister McCann's special squad of income tax investigators through the past two years chased almost 3,000,000 delinquent dollars into the Federal Treasury.

The "take" from tax-doggers in the 111 big cases so far brought before the courts was $2,824,300.08.

To that, another $627,553 was added in fines.

Minister McCann tipped his investigation mitt slightly to this bureau, disclosing a couple of the ways tax sleuths have been operating.

WATCH BIG DEALS
"They know their districts and the people in them," he related.

"They have a fair idea of what you can, and can't, afford."
"They watch the lists of property sales and transfers, and if you're a $5,000-a-year man buying a $25,000 home, they begin taking a look-see at your financial affairs."

"They watch the new car sales, too, and if you're a $50-a-week man and suddenly blossom out in a smooth $2,800 job, they figure you're worth a peek."

One of the fastest frauds across the whole Dominion broke in the Ottawa Income Tax District because the two partners in a retail organization who for years had driven beat-up low-priced cars suddenly appeared behind the wheels of "black" models. Without any good reason—at least their hooks showed no rust—they became three-car-to-a-family men.

MAKES IT FAIR
By the time Minister McCann's peek-a-boo squad was through with them, it had cut their taxes close to $50,000, and they said their cars to pay the income tax bill.

It isn't a pretty picture, Minister McCann will readily agree, having to employ a special corps of side-and-go-see boys, but as long as tax rates remain high it will be necessary to be concerned with paying their share of the federal freight.

While property sales and new cars provide their share of tax tips the big killing is still made in the routine inspection of "cook-book" books.

A slipup by one firm brings grief to others, and the Revenue Department has the record of a single bookkeeping "blow" involving five companies.

Records indicate that an organized system of short-hand was used as far back as 1818.

CHILD'S REMARK SAVES TOT'S LIFE

BURNABY, B.C., Aug. 28.—(CP)—Three little boys trooped past Mrs. A. V. Vetter's home yesterday. They were play-mates of her 3½-year-old son Billy.

"Where's Billy?" she asked.

"Oh, he drowned in a tank," one little boy said.

Mrs. Vetter rushed to a seven-foot sapling tank excavation, full of water, Billy looking up and down but debris and floating lumber saved him from going completely under.

Exact Polio Diagnosis Needed Says Scientist

By PAUL F. ELIAS
United Press Science Editor

NEW YORK.—(UP)—Science has done wonders in discovering drugs to combat bacteria. Now it is time something was done to fight the virus.

So believes Dr. Alton Goldbloom, professor of pediatrics, McGill University, Montreal, who was one of the experts attending the first international poliomyelitis conference here.

BACTERIA IN HAND
Dr. Goldbloom believes that a world organization to serve as a clearing house for information leading to man's control of virus disease should be established.

He pointed out that the last decade has been one in which mankind won final control of many bacterial diseases through chemotherapy, the sulfas drugs, penicillin and streptomycin.

Such diseases as infantile paralysis, the common cold, influenza, smallpox, measles and rabies are caused by viruses.

Many of them, Dr. Goldbloom pointed out, can be prevented by such means as vaccination for smallpox, but once the disease is established in the human body, it takes its course unaffected by any treatment.

Dr. Goldbloom said there must be an intensive search by all branches of medical and chemical science for a substance that will stop virus infections as the sulfas drugs and penicillin stop bacterial disease.

DIAGNOSIS NEEDED
He further believes that the world scientists should develop an accurate diagnosis of poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis). The technique must be simple and rapid, he said.

"Whatever we find is poliomyelitis research," Dr. Goldbloom said, "will help in the problem of all virus infection. You cannot successfully separate poliomyelitis from other viruses. The need is for more and greater research in the whole broad subject."

The polio virus is one of the smallest. It has never been seen even under the most powerful microscopes. Further complicating the problem is the fact that there are many, many strains of the polio virus. It is believed to be spherical in shape.

CAR OF POPCORN FOR RADIO PRIZE WINNER

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—A railroad box-car full of popcorn will be en route to an Omaha, Neb., man sometime next week.

Sponsors of the Phil Baker radio program, "Everybody Wins," announced that Morris Adlam of Omaha was a winner in a recent appearance on the program. The popcorn, the equivalent of 200 cases, is his prize.

The corn will be shipped from the T-N-T Popcorn Company of Lawrence, Kas.

Lifting of Cattle Ban Brings Crisis For Hog Producers

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Aug. 28.—(CP)—The Lethbridge Herald said in a newspaper story yesterday that lifting of the ban on cattle exports to the United States had caused "something of a crisis" for hog producers.

The Herald said pork prices had followed the upward trend of beef, boosting the Alberta farmer's return on hogs to $33 for H-1 grades, as compared to the $27.30 he received for exporting hogs to fulfill the British bacon contract.

"For some weeks no pork has been shipped to Britain except what was in the contract and marked for export at the British contract prices."

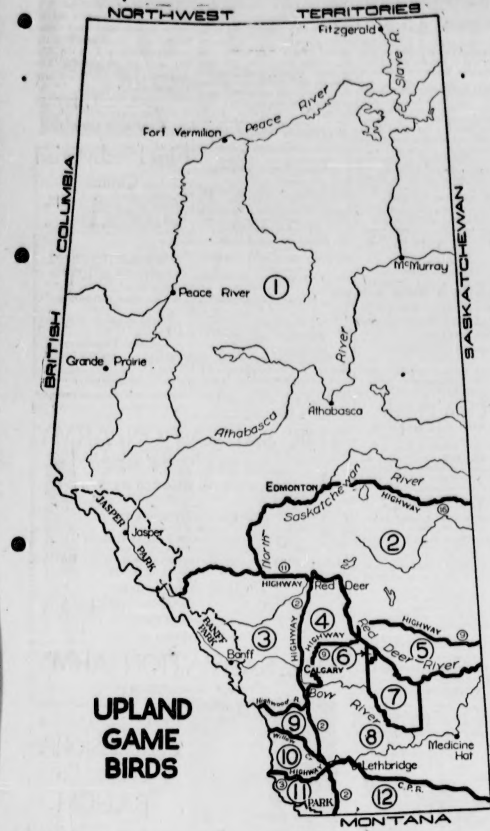

The Herald reported both farmers and packers were worried over what action the Canadian government would take when cooler supplies for the British contract were exhausted.

Upland Game Bird Season Differs in 12 Alberta Zones

There are a dozen zones in Alberta this year, and in each of them the season for upland game birds differs.

As an aid to local hunters, The Edmonton Bulletin presents the accompanying map showing what may be shot where and when.

In zone 1, season for Hungarian partridge, sharp-tailed grouse (prairie chicken), and ruffed grouse is from one hour before sunrise October 6 to one hour after sunset October 30. Ring-necked pheasant may be shot in this zone from 10:00 a.m. to one hour after sunset on October 6, October 9, October 13 and October 16.

NO SEASON
In zone 2, there is no season for Hungarian, ruffed grouse or blue grouse and season for ring-necked pheasant is the same as in zone 1. Prairie chicken in zone 3 may be taken from one hour before sunrise October 6 to one hour after sunset October 16. Only other season open in this zone is for pheasant and it is similar to the regulations for the first two zones.

In zones 4 and 5, there are only 4 days of shooting permitted. These are for ring-necked pheasant and are the same four days as such shooting is permitted in other zones.

ZONE 6 CLOSED
No game bird shooting is permitted in zone 6 at all, but in zone 7, the Eastern Irrigation hunters of pheasants will have from 10 a.m. Oct. 6 to one hour after sunset Oct. 30 to take ring-necked cock pheasants.

In zone 8, the pheasants may be shot from 10 a.m. Oct. 6 to one hour after sunset Oct. 16. A similar season on pheasants applies in zones 9 and 10.

In 9 and 10, too, the season for ruffed grouse opens one hour before sunrise Sept. 25 and closes one hour after sunset Oct. 2.

In zones 10 and 11 ruffed grouse and blue grouse may be shot from one hour before sunrise Sept. 25 to one hour after sunset Oct. 2.

In zone 11, the season for prairie chicken is open from one hour before sunrise Oct. 6 to one hour after sunset Oct. 16.

Zones 11 and 12 have the same rules for Hungarian partridge as the first five zones.

The World is being told about ALBERTA

Do YOU know the facts about POWER?

From the Eiffel Tower in Paris and Trafalgar Square in London to Times Square in New York industrial executives are being told the story of Alberta. They are being invited to build in Alberta, to bring new employment, new wealth, new opportunities for all of us. You can help bring them in by knowing some of the highlights of this treasure-house province of Canada. Here is the story of Power:

From the eternal snows of the Rocky Mountains Alberta has virtually unlimited sources of electricity from water power. The potential hydro-electric power resources are comparable with any area in the world.

Alberta has three great drainage basins: the MacKenzie to the Arctic, the Saskatchewan to Hudson's Bay and the Milk River to the Missouri. These systems contain thirty-four practicable, determined power sites. Four have been utilized to provide an annual power output of over 90,000 horsepower. Power is supplied by private companies under the supervision of a Board of Utilities Commissioners. Alberta's water power is another attractive factor for industrial expansion in Alberta — the free land of free enterprise. Talk about water power, write about water power — help to build Alberta!

ALBERTA has what industry needs!

COME TO CHURCH THIS SUNDAY

[Faint, illegible handwriting]

TAFTINGER, Speaker

Home Acts Pioneer Musician Receives Many Days Victorian Times Saw Many Famous Stars

A little bit of the musical past comes to the column this week, memories of Edmonton's music world as it was in 1880.

It is recalled by an elderly gentleman who was part of that world 30 years ago.

He came to Edmonton from England in 1880, at 20 years of age, and picked right into brass bands, music and church.

His name is H. Oliver May. Perhaps you will remember him.

Mr. May now lives at Stonewall, Manitoba.

One Sunday, some months ago, while rummaging through the stuff that had accumulated over the years, he came across an old Edmonton music program, dated November 21, 1884.

CHARITY PROGRAM

It was a program for a charity concert held to make some money to send a worthy, but very poor, old pioneer back to England.

The program included many familiar old names, and recalled more to Mr. May.

Memories prompted him to write to the Secretary, Mrs. M. J. Phillips, Association, Edmonton, and the letter reached Mrs. Phillips.

Herbert G. Turner, who in turn brought it to this column.

Mr. May recalled that in 1884, he took over the leadership of the Edmonton First String Band, later the Edmonton Citizens' Band, and the McDougall Street Church Choir, and became acquainted with a Miss K. Phillips, who was organist for the church, and was Edmonton's first music teacher.

OLD TIMER

She was an old-timer in the district when Mr. May arrived from England, and she often recounted her experiences to me of the days of pioneer music.

"I am just a boy of 18 years old," she said, "when I first came to Edmonton."

He suggests that the memory of the noted pianist Miss Phillips be perpetuated here by creating a trophy for competition in the annual Music Festival.

MAY BE FOUNDERS

Recalling his hand practice, Mr. May states that two cousins and a nephew used to walk nine miles to practice night. "I wonder how they were footed for the Moravians?" he asks.

Stars Return, Winter Can't Be Far Behind

More than this week's forecasts for frost are presaging the return of the winter season.

Reports of the return of the more favored radio shows are now frequent and indicate a season of enjoyable listening around the warmth of the home fireside.

One of the first of the leading shows to return is the Monday Night Theatre Hour heard over C.F.R.N.

At a time when the radio is in its infancy, the show was produced by William Reilly and his associates in the early days of the radio.

Producer William Reilly and his associates in the early days of the radio. The show was produced by William Reilly and his associates in the early days of the radio.

COMEDY NIGHT

In the new radio alignment of programs, Friday instead of Tuesday will be the comedy night with the popular Edie Griffin, Ted Skelton, William Bendix, Jack Carson and Mr. and Mrs. Ace.

Edmonton's radio stations are going all out in helping to fill the daytime hours and the evening hours with their usual variety of the police recitals.

In addition to the broadcasts by the Recreation Commission being added additional programs to the up-to-date 100 hours of radio.

New hours have come to C.F.R.N. Second of three broadcast awards to be made to Canadian radio stations for the week of September 14th to 20th.

Several weeks later a series featuring Foster Hewitt, popular hockey broadcaster, will be starting Friday evenings over C.F.R.N. at 8:30.

WAYNE AND SHUSTER

These two boys from Hollywood, who are the Smiths of Hollywood, to be heard Sunday starting September 14th and Drama of Melodrama starting the same day; Wayne and Shuster, starting on the same day, followed by the Happy Gang and the new Ray Ward Show, Take a Chance on the 21st.

The Fred Waring variety show, Curtains Time, and Harmony House will be returning the week of September 13th on C.F.R.N.

HOPE RETURNS

Hope will be back on the airwaves starting September 14th, and according to the grapevine, a complete overhauling of the show.

Northerners Sweep Music Awards

Young musicians in Northern Alberta swept the award list of the Western Board of Music in the province. Of the 14 awards, 12 were won by musicians residing in the northern half of the province.

There are 21 Edmontonians on the list.

Here are the Northern Albertans on the award list, as announced by the scholarship committee of the Western Alberta Music Council.

Edmonton Western Board of Music awards will be presented at recitals by selected candidates in various centres in the province this fall.

Awards include scholarships, bursaries, prizes of books, and silver medals.

Concert prizes for 35 years ago in Edmonton included concert duets by himself and W. Clarke (Mr. May).

He played as violin in a quartet; "Lucky Doo" played by "The Orchestra," Indian club exercises performed by a Corporal Griffiths, of the Northwest Mounted Police, and a fencing exhibition by Count Negroni and Count Delant.

VICTORIAN

"God Save the Queen and 'God Save the King' was sung at Victoria's end in those Victorian days."

Mr. May states that although the sample program may not contain numbers demanding a high standard of vocal technique, music was a great deal of fun.

Among Canada's early cellists.

Home-town artists weren't the only ones who performed.

"About 1884 we had a Madam Regis, wife of Count Regis. This lady was a prima donna of the grand opera, and could be heard practicing scales and arpeggios in her Queen's Hotel suite."

BIG OVATION

Despite Mrs. Regis's glorious voice, the most popular of all Edmonton's singers in that day was the famous soprano, Mrs. M. J. Phillips. Her charming and clear and expressive rendering of such songs as "Should We Separate" and "Kiss and Tell" always received an ovation from "The Boys."

Music was predominant in all audiences in those days," Mr. May said.

Miss Edith Ward was Edmonton's first vocal teacher. She also taught the first physical culture class.

Mr. May also mentions the Edmonton Musical Society, which was organized in 1884, and the first vocal teacher, Mrs. M. J. Phillips, who was organist for the church, and was Edmonton's first music teacher.

He suggests that the memory of the noted pianist Miss Phillips be perpetuated here by creating a trophy for competition in the annual Music Festival.

OVERCOME

Then the discoverers that even her love for her husband and children could not overcome religious differences.

At the end of this rather shallowly treated novel, Veronica is waiting for Jamie's return to her with little hope—only a prayer that their marriage to one another will be a success and overcome her religious differences.

Roman Catholic Ellen Berlin should know her subject.

Her marriage to one another will be a success and overcome her religious differences.

Chief fault of the book is that it is a shallowly treated novel.

Had she done so, her characters would be much more sharply drawn; they would be far more interesting than the characters of Ellen Berlin, granddaughter of the author, who is a shallowly treated novel.

Mackay, is obviously familiar with her subject, but her second novel falls well below the standard set by her "Land I Have Chosen," which was so favorably received.

THE CRADLE AND THE GRAVE

By Aaron Mary Stein, New York: Crime Club, Doubleday and Company, 1947.

These three short stories, Tim Mulligan and Miss Mae Hunt, who so far as the record shows, are more interested in murder than in kitchen middens, go to visit their friends in the kitchen.

Milton has seen service in the Marines and three of his former buddies are among his students.

Tim and Miss Mae are soon involved in troubles which include two murders, a kidnapping and the police and the Marines after him.

What was to have been a pleasant visit with a friend becomes for Tim and Miss Mae, just another adventure in detecting, with all the usual trimmings.

A perennial best-seller nearly 100 years ago, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," has been published in new edition at the behest of readers who have not forgotten it.

Mrs. Berlin Returns With Religious-Tolerance Novel

LACE CURTAIN, By Ellen Berlin, Doubleday, $3.00, 375 pages.

This is the story of Veronica Reardon, the second youngest child, in a wealthy Irish-American family. From girlhood through to womanhood, she gradually learns that despite her family's money, there is a high barrier between her own Roman Catholic "lace-curtain" set, and non-Catholics.

Her awareness of the insidious prejudice against her and her own of her parents' quiet say to another "Oh well, they're not so bad." And the reply: "Well no, but they are."

Veronica didn't understand.

Full realization of the pre-arranged plan of general people, each of whom thought that his religion was better than any other, did not come to her until her country and her marriage with Protestant Jamie Stair.

Eskimos Blow 7-Run Homer To Purty

Choukalos 'Villain' With 3-Run Winning Homer

By STAN MOHR
Bulletin Sports Editor
Eskimos 7, Purty 8

CALGARY, Aug. 28.—Once upon a time an observer of the sports scene got off a crack to the effect that "you never know about a ball game until the last man is out."

Certainly it was like this at Buffalo Stadium Friday night as Ed Morris and his Edmonton Eskimos went under 7-7 to Calgary Purty in the second game of the Big Four League finals.

All the northers did was blow a 7-0 lead piled up in three and one-half innings of one-sided action. However, after chasing victory to the 10th inning, the Eskimos were less than an inning of play the Eskimos attack more or less petered out with the coming of the scene of Joe Kanik, product of the Crown West Pass.

Kanik inherited a legacy of four Eskimos runs already over when he headed into the game. He was touched for another three runs on five hits over the rest of the route. In the meantime Purty came to life, starting with a pair of runs in the fourth frame, and finally brought about the downfall of righthander Clarence Melbye, who went all the way for the Capital City aggregation.

THREE-RUN HOMER
It was 26-year-old Ernie Choukalos, the Greek musclemen from the centre field fence, who hit the homer. The Purty catcher drove a 325-foot homer over the centre field fence in the seventh inning to score a trio of runs and turn a 5-2 deficit into a winning margin.

Almost from the start of the game Melbye like the other northers. The Oregonian had none of his pitching guile with him on any occasion. Early on his mates kept him in the game with a pair of fielding plays. However, it couldn't last forever and from the time Glen Gorbous opened up the Purty half of the seventh inning with a home run into the left field bleachers that Melbye went going to be able to hold off the aroused Oilers.

Wally Gullough with a hard shot to left field, made it 5-3. Melbye made it 6-3. Then he was hit by a line drive from the right centre wall to score Carlos and Gorbous. Melbye was hit by a line drive from the right centre wall to score Carlos and Gorbous. Melbye was hit by a line drive from the right centre wall to score Carlos and Gorbous.

The young backstop already had touched Melbye for three hits in as many trips. He made it four for four by slugging a homer over the right centre wall to score Carlos and Gorbous. Melbye was hit by a line drive from the right centre wall to score Carlos and Gorbous.

Kanik took care of Eskimo hopes in the two remaining appearances at the plate.

In the eighth inning manager Ed Morris and shortstop Frank Gonzalez were heated out of the game by the Purty pitcher, who followed a disputed play at second base by hitting Morris.

Singers Whip Yellowknife Huskies 8-2

There are strange things done 'neath the midnight sun, but there was nothing stranger about Yellowknife Huskies at Kingsway Park Friday night.

For they showed nothing out of the ordinary while dropping an 8-2 decision to Singers in a senior men's exhibition football game.

Two big innings were all for the Singers. Up until the sixth inning it was an airtight tilt, with Singers' Gordon Weeks and Frank Ferraro, Husky hurler, locked in a nip-and-tuck pitching duel.

Then it happened as Singers pulled seven runs for a 4-4 margin. The local contingent added four more in the sixth to wrap up the victory, while the northers could muster only singles in the eighth and ninth frames.

Weeks whiffed seven and walked but one, while Ferraro struck out the same number and gave up four bases in the last four frames.

Jim Macrae and Jim Fleming hit the long balls, a triple apiece for Singers.

Edmonton Losing Young Grid Star

By Jim Algie
Steve Paproski, who can perform acts of wizardry on the gridiron like Steve (Two Tons) Paproski, left in touch with Jerry Seagrath, former North Dakota, Montreal and Calgary Stampeder piker at who now calls Edmonton home.

But can you play football like Paproski? Well, Paproski is the city can.

As a result of Seagrath being "in the know," Paproski today is on his way to Grand Forks and the University of North Dakota, where he will take up physical education on an athletic scholarship.

But can you play football like Paproski? Well, Paproski is the city can.

Steve has been destined to go places on the gridiron ever since he donned his first "monkey suit" while attending Victoria High School. A big, 250-pound centre who can travel the 100-yard dash in 11 seconds, Steve has been a mainstay in junior football here for the past four years.

His partner will have Maple Leafs with a big hole to fill, a man who knows his football and he didn't need many looks to see Paproski was the first line in the Saskatchewan city Saturday.

Seagrath, who started his football at the North Dakota, is a man who knows his football and he didn't need many looks to see Paproski was the first line in the Saskatchewan city Saturday.

He wrote to coach Glen Jarrett, an old "T" brother.

It so happened that Jarrett was in dire need of a top-notch center and he had the first line in the Saskatchewan city Saturday.

As for Paproski, the 19-year-old husky plans to stick to football. He is particularly keen on the American game. "That downfield-blocking is terrific," he says he puts it.

Three Dot Staff: "Bring two blankets, two sheets and one pillow," was the P.S. trailing Jarrett.

Seagrath followed Jarrett, Steve impires football at Kingsway Park, tinkers around at fast ball, basketball and baseball, and also giving out pointers to Leaf and E.C. juniors. "Not only can Steve get his own education degree, but under this scholarship he can continue through and get his masters."

Time Out

By Dick Beddoes
It isn't pleasant to write about a team that has lost its third game but the Edmonton Eskimos did just that when CNR did at Renfrew Park last evening. The young men from Calgary simply allowed the Eskimos to win after five innings and allowed Canada to win the third game of the junior baseball playoffs.

That CNR were not interested in facing the fans they were was obvious to all who witnessed the shabby exhibition yesterday afternoon. The Eskimos were the only team that was strictly "no hitting."

The day hasn't arrived yet when one team makes a ball game, and with CNR going along for the ride it was difficult for Canadians to give any kind of a showing.

REGULARS ABSENT
It so happened that Don Embury, Wally Uralich, and Smiley "Red" McInelly, all regulars with CNR, were out of town since they had business like firing coil. In their absence Lou Hall had a team pitched up like an old pair of pants with an outfielder catcher, a pitcher, a shortstop, and a brackened in the outfield.

HENRY COTTON SEEKS INDIVIDUAL MATCHES

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Henry Cotton, British open golf champion, arrived from England Friday for a seven-week stay during which he expects to play a number of exhibition matches.

Cotton expressed a willingness to play individual matches with the United States open champion, Lloyd Mangrum, leading money-winner among the pros and a former open champion, and Byron Nelson, semi-retired star who has won every major title except the British open.

"This is by no means a challenge," Cotton said. "I just think it would be a good thing for golf. They might win, I might win. It really would make no difference. The matches would be interesting, that's all."

RIVERSIDE, N.B., Aug. 28.—(CP)—Canada's hopes of bringing the Canadian women's golf championship back home disappeared Friday when two American golfers, including the defending champion, made a double-barrel victory of the 18-hole semi-final.

Grace Lenzyk of Newington, Conn., who defeated Ada Mackenzie of Toronto 5 and 4 in the semi-final at Toronto last year, won from the Canadian veteran again Friday in even more convincing fashion, 1 and 1.

MacPherson To Defend Douglas

REGINA, Aug. 28.—(UPI)—A Regina barrister, M. A. MacPherson, will defend Premier T. C. Douglas of Saskatchewan, in the $100,000 libel and slander action brought against him by Walter Tucker, Saskatchewan Liberal party leader.

MacPherson has already entered a plea of appearing for Douglas in the Prince Albert judicial district and a defense will be filed by the first of September.

The action was started by Tucker, now leader of the opposition in the Saskatchewan legislature, as an outcome of the recent provincial election campaign.

A statement of claim filed on Tucker's behalf says that at an election meeting on June 30 Douglas charged that Tucker and two other persons were using funds for depriving by fraud certain persons of their property.

Political 'Marshall Plan' Approved

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The United States gave a new boost to western European unity today. It came through with a vote in the House of Representatives to go ahead with actualization of a continental parliament.

With Secretary Marshall's sanction, the state department announced the administrative backing for an assembly, just as it actively supported the newly-formed five-power Brussels Alliance.

To be composed presumably of delegates of the 16 countries taking part in the American-financed European Recovery program, the assembly proposal is taking shape as a political counterpart of the Marshall Plan.

Under the French proposal, the assembly at the outset would have only advisory powers. Unless Moscow and the Soviet bloc reverse their entry in the Marshall Plan, and join in, it would help solidify western Europe against the Communist tide.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—To each his own smell. That's the word of Max Factor, Hollywood's beauty expert. "Perfume is the final touch of good grooming which every woman should have," he declared. "But she should be careful in choosing her perfume. It should be soft, not too obvious, sweet, it should stay close to the body. Above all, it should suit her personality."

THE RIGHT KINDS

For purposes of clarity, I egghead. Prior to naming the right kinds of colors for 10 screen actresses: Here are his selections: Lana Turner—Sexy, but not a siren; medium-heavy odor, warm, floral, not too oriental. Betty Grable—Vivacious and spicy perfume for a spicy gal. Rosalind Russell—Not too violent; subtle and warm floral smell; earthy bouquet. Greer Garson—Soft, sweet, cool, lilac-like. Bette Davis—Exotic, waxy, but not sweet or floral. Marjorie Main—Warm, outdoorsy odor.

As to the romantic aspects of perfume, Factor explained that the bases of some of them are the sex attraction oils of animals. He blotched that the luring abilities of the animals are even more powerful than are proclaimed in the ads. (Gentlemen, beware.)

Factor had a word to say for the mules, too. He declared that a large percentage of American men have swung to use of cologne, most varieties of which are based on citrus odors.

A speed violation is a contributory factor in one out of every three fatal traffic accidents. According to the National Safety Council, the strain of fast driving is not weather induces driver fatigue, dulls alertness, sets a high penalty for misjudgment. Heed the speedometer and the thermometer for summer safety on the highway.

CHECKING ORDERS IMPORTANT PART OF DIETITIANS' WORK

VETERANS MUST BE FED well and Government House dietitian Mary Macdonnell confers with chef Jack Sudbury over a menu problem. Trusting to please a whole hospital of veterans takes a lot of time and study. But Miss Mac manages with ease and efficiency. Over and above the business of planning menus, ordering food in quantity, this attractive young girl chats with patients and finds out their individual likes and dislikes. . . just to keep them happy with their meals. A dietitian has a host of other duties so that her time is well filled in the interesting, busy hospital ward.

Hospital Dietitians Needed

Serious shortage of hospital dietitians is said to be in existence in Canada.

This was revealed in conference at the Canadian Home Economics Association convention taking place in Calgary this week.

Harriet S. Warrington of Minneapolis, Minn., told the more than 200 hundred delegates who attended the convention a remedy for the "serious dietitian shortage" in hospitals was to show high school and college students the "tremendous opportunities" awaiting them in the field.

Chief of dietetics section in a branch of the veterans administration at Minneapolis, Miss Warrington said a hospital dietitian must combine qualities of a teacher and a business woman with food knowledge.

Dietetic training and all phases of the home economics course stand a woman in good stead throughout life.

Her position as wife, mother and homemaker will be made easier if she has scientific and theoretical knowledge to back her.

Combining the nutritive value of food with a "feel" for appetizing combinations, attractive displays, are all things a dietitian is trained for.

In hospital work, much of the training is concentrated on special diet work for patients requiring high or low calorie diets, certain vitamins, or perhaps a high protein diet.

A trained dietitian can plan a menu around these factors quicker "in a cat can winkle its eye."

FLAVOR TESTING BEST WITH OLD METHODS

PALATE PLEASERS like hot bubbling marmalade are whipped up in the modern Northwest Utilities kitchen by dietitians Edith Ashdown, left, and Doreen Thompson. Yesterday it was pickles, today marmalade, tomorrow probably special low-cost meat dishes. Testing appliances and recipes for efficiency, accuracy, cost and practicality keep the young women busy and interested. They both think it an ideal career for a woman to follow.

SOME OF THIS . . . SOME OF THAT . . .

LUNCH COUNTER BUSINESS is booming and being in charge of a large depot, Miss Gilchrist keeps dietitian Marion Gilchrist busy as a bee. One thing about this commercial field of dietetics . . . you have your stock right in the same store. As a matter of fact, Miss Gilchrist is kept so busy she must have on constant, Beatrice Grant. Food is fun, says Miss Gilchrist, and so are the people who eat it.

LAST-MINUTE INSPECTION BEFORE DINNER TIME

IT'S FISH FOR DINNER for patients at Charles Camell hospital and hospital dietitian Margaret Fawcett gives it the last-minute once-over before serving. Miss Fawcett's busy orders food, plans menus, checks special diets for patients.

tests and manages to find time to spread a ray of sunshine through the hospital at the same time, being a hospital dietitian means early hours, but you know you're doing something constructive says Miss Fawcett.

Blanche Bishop, Nurse At International Congress To Congress of Industrial Medicine

Only Canadian Woman Delegate

Honor of being the only Canadian woman, and one of only three Canadian delegates to the International Congress of Industrial Medicine in London, England, has been paid a former Alberta nurse, Blanche Bishop.

She is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ernest Bishop of Medicine Hat, Alta.

Miss Bishop has been asked to present a paper to the Congress on "The Role of the Industrial Nurse in the Promotion of Health."

The industrial nurse under the supervision of plant doctors, is responsible for the general mental and physical well-being of the factory workers.

Education in good eating habits is one of her big jobs, and in spite of the fact that her employer is a baker, she is carrying on a personal war with their full personnel against such things as a doughnut and coffee break.

Questionnaires covering three days' meals are distributed and the worker is asked to fill them in. Miss Bishop goes over the paper with the employee, showing her the meat is lacking in the essentials of what is considered a good meal.

Her whole program is designed to build up what she designates as "not only positive health but a positive attitude towards health."

Aspects discovered by plant doctors are followed up by the nurse.

Miss Bishop left Medicine Hat in 1932 to take up her position at a hospital in Toronto. The fact that the hospital is psychiatric has been one of an asset than a handicap, she points out.

Vows Exchanged At Yellowknife

YELLOWKNIFE, Aug. 28.—Attractively decorated with summer flowers, Calgary Baptist Church was the scene of a recent wedding when Miss Hilda Meloy and the Rev. Mr. Alexander Russell exchanged marriage vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. Meloy of Clonland and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Russell of Round Hill.

Miss Meloy chose a soft gray gown with a white collar and a white sash. Her hair was styled in a simple, practical manner.

Miss Nan Brown of Victoria was the bridesmaid. She wore a light blue suit with matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Raymond Fleming of Edmonton was the best man.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Anderson Thompson and solo was sung by Miss Hilda Meloy.

At the reception, the bride and groom were surrounded by a large number of guests.

The couple will live at Yellowknife.

Baby Clothing Sent to Palace

LONDON, Aug. 28.—(CPI)—Almost daily, gifts of baby clothes arrive at Buckingham palace.

The gifts, which come from all over the world, including countries outside the commonwealth.

Several lengths are correct for evening slacks. There is the street-length, the ankle and jockey length and for grand gown, floor length.

The one that really gets around is the street-length costume. It has many names—five o'clock frock, cocktail dress, theatre dress and twilight dress in mention a few, but it is really a glorified afternoon frock and sometimes an important silk suit.

Its wearability is the big appeal of the costume.

You can start out in the daytime dressed this way and you don't need an evening wrap for it.

The last-minute news about this street-length dinner and theatre dress is late—late for the top of the dress.

The ankle-length dance dress is the latest.

At the reception, the bride and groom were surrounded by a large number of guests.

The couple will live at Yellowknife.

New Companies Join in Search

By Cecil Jackson

Companies which reserved the vast north land tract of 4,000,000 acres do not include any of the well-known independent companies previously associated with the Alberta oil exploration program. As was previously stated all were organized by the associated backers of the plan in order to make the reservation possible.

The 20 organizations, each of which took the maximum allowable reservation of two blocks of 100,000 acres each, are as follows: Manning Petroleum Limited, Wainwright Oil Limited, Frame Oil Limited, Hupley Oil Limited, Parkford Oil Limited, McMillan Oil Limited, Corpus Christi Oil Limited, Fort Worth Oil Limited, Hollywood Oil Limited, Brand Oil Limited, Magmore Oil Limited, Hilmor Oil Limited, Peasbush Oil Limited, Beaumont Oil Limited, Commager Oil Limited, Miami Venon Oil Limited, Hilmor Oil Limited, Vampire Oil Limited, Korden Oil Company Limited, Westmont Oil Limited.

U.S. CAPITAL INCLUDED

The scheme was financed with capital from all over the United States and Canada. The territory included a block along the south shore of Lesser Slave Lake and 50 miles north of Smith in addition to the ribbon of land along the Albion River and railway from Waterways to Lac La Biche.

Other reservations issued in the past week include two east of Lacombe totaling 100,000 acres to C. Hawco. An 86,724 acre tract in the Peace River district owned by Hilda B.C. was taken by C. M. Bell of Calgary.

FURTHER APPLICATIONS

Imperial Oil Limited, William Davis Smith, Harry Wesley Hewitt, and three other firms have applied for reservations northeast and northwest of Albion, west of McLennan, and southeast and northeast of Halmor.

The 10 blocks in the Halmor area of the Lloydminster field is long overdue. High independent companies have joined to drill in the salt beds of the Devonian. Imperial Oil and Halmor have been given 50,000 bottom hole money. The hole is expected to find the Devonian at 2,500 feet. It will be drilled to the salt beds expected at 3,000 feet.

Hedging Holds Grains To Narrow Changes

WINNIPEG, Aug. 28.—(CP)—Oats and barley futures fluctuated narrowly on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today.

Hedging pressure was strong in both grains with processors buying in on the declines. American interests were also present in oats.

In rye trade hedging pressure continued to increase on the strength of new crop deliveries. American and local interests were some buying in the fairly active trade. Crushers took a few orders in the slow trade.

The United Kingdom took 150,000 bushels of Canadian wheat. Prices were unchanged from Friday.

New Lunch Counter Feature of Hotel

An outstanding feature of the new Stettler hotel is the modern lunch counter and coffee bar.

Located at the southwest corner of the premises, the new cafe is modernized in every manner and equipped with all the latest in restaurant facilities.

Seating capacity is 40, comprised of 24 stools and four booths which accommodate 16 patrons.

The cafe officially opened this week, bringing the hotel into full operation.

It is difficult to distinguish the outstanding feature of this new eatery, for the management has gone all out, sparing no expense, in making it definitely the town's finest.

A modern banquet room is so arranged that it can accommodate two parties of 75 persons at one time by employing the use of the sliding doors which have been installed in the centre of the banquet hall.

All week, various Stettler organizations and clubs have employed the use of the hall for meetings and dinners and the management has received a number of reservations for future use of the banquet room.

The lunch counter too has been a busy spot and promises to become one of the town's most popular rendezvous.

Frank Opdebeck, manager of the MAIN STREET in Stettler houses the majority of the town's business firms. Stettler was founded in October, 1906, and incorporated as a town in November, 1906. The town's population is said to be in the neighborhood of 2,300 and there are some 85 business firms operating in the community.

"DOC" AUNGER WELL KNOWN

Pioneer resident, and one of the town's most popular and better known citizens, is Dr. A. E. "AB" Aunger.

"Doc," as he is known to just about everybody in the town and district, is the local dentist.

He has been in the "tooth extracting" business for 43 years, 40 of which were spent in Stettler.

The lunch counter and tables in the booths are constructed of the new pear-shaped realwood furniture while the stools are chrome with China red leather. Seats in the booths are also constructed of China red leather.

Frank Opdebeck Has Years of Experience

Tall, friendly and witty, with a dry sense of humor, is Frank Opdebeck, manager of the new Stettler hotel.

A native of Calgary, Frank has been in the hotel business for 14 years.

Prior to his recent appointment he was manager of the National hotel at Hanna.

He also managed hotels at Medicine Hat and Calgary.

Frank is mighty proud of his latest charge, vainly boasting that it is a "big city hotel and definitely the most modern in the province."

The elongated Opdebeck is quick to point out the many conveniences his hotel offers and has been busy as a beaver this past few weeks taking the many visitors on a tour of the premises.

Frank, as he prefers being called, is married and has two sons, Neil and Michael.

EDUCATIONAL CENTRE of central Alberta is located at Stettler. The town and district has long been noted for the high academic records of its students. Here is Stettler's high school. Plans are underway to erect another new school in the town to accommodate the ever increasing student enrollment.

Stettler Shows Big Growth In 43 Years Of Existence

The town of Stettler is almost 43-years-old.

It came into being on October 29, 1895, when Wilson Tupper and M. Spurrell of Calgary, arrived at the terminus of the CPR from Lacombe and with difficulty discovered the old townsite stakes, for which they were hunting with a view to starting business.

Not a building, at that time, broke the monotony of the country for farmers, though a few isolated homesteaders, ranchers and small scale farmers were sparsely scattered about over the rich black lands that stretch for miles in every direction.

FIRST BUILDING
Wilson Tupper erected the town's first building which was a shack on Railway Avenue in the south-east section of the townsite. The building was erected one week after his arrival.

But all Stettler needed was someone to pave the way for on the heels of Tupper came many new settlers and within the first six months the town's population increased to 700 and no less than 70 business firms mushroomed into being.

No town, except the old mining communities, had ever sprung up with such rapidity, in the same space of time.

The town was named after Carl Stettler, an American of Swiss descent, who brought a group of early settlers into the district and who had a farm at Blumensau, two miles east of the townsite.

Carl started the Post Office in the area and built one of the town's first hotels the National on Main Street and Alberta Avenue. The town's second building, the three structure was the office of Blumensau and Sire, the fourth being McGillivray's furniture store.

and the fifth the Merchant's bank.

BANK BUILT
The bank was built with rough blocks 10 by 12 on the site of the present Royal Bank of Canada and was Stettler's first bank. It contained a bed and a stove and the bank manager, J. Peterson and his assistant used the bed to sit on and conducted banking operations over a 12-inch board, while small loans grew through the cracks in the floor.

First meeting held in Stettler occurred in the back of McGillivray's store in December, 1905, when the association known as called "The Stettler Businessmen's Association."

A later meeting it was changed to the present Board of Trade. Attending the first session were: N. B. McGillivray, F. T. Colley, G. C. Bentley, Wilson Tupper, W. Dunlop, John Adams, G. H. Farmer, E. H. Mathias, W. B. Gray and Carl Stettler.

McGillivray was named president of the association while J. T. Colley was appointed secretary. Stettler was gazetted a village in March, 1906, with G. C. Bentley as overseer, and as a town in November the same year with the following officials: Mayor, N. B. McGillivray, Councilmen, Carl Stettler, J. V. Tier, W. Dunlop, J. P. Gray, N. Burdick, G. H. Farmer and W. R. Gray as Town Clerk.

Stettler's first fire occurred on January 7, 1907, when the Alberta and Royal hotels were burned to the ground along with James Tupper's men's wear store. The fire engine refused to work around to the town's old timers and bucket brigade couldn't cope with the rag.

BUSINESS EXPANSION
Businessmen were arriving steadily and the next to arrive were, Messrs. Hagg and White and Nick Nickerson, who occupied the new building erected at the time by F. T. Colley, over which was Colley's Hall. Following these early arrivals changes took place rapidly in Stettler and by the end of 1908 the town possessed all the necessary conveniences, including a public hall, a sumptuous skating rink, a crematory, land office, police barracks, immigration hall, two churches, fire hall, four hotels, night room school, athletic grounds, a large number of homes and the streets were graded and gravelled and several cement sidewalks were laid. In June 1908, the town's first band was organized headed by Joe Williams and Mark Stein. The first curling club was formed on November 20 the same year, with 10 skippers and officials were: W.

Three hotels, the post office and 12 stores were destroyed by the fire, causing a loss of $200,000. One man, Leslie Mettler a clerk in the Big Store, owned by Burdick Bros. who slept upstairs in that building lost his life in the fire.

STETTLER'S NEW HOTEL, which officially opened for business this week, was erected at a cost of $325,000. It features 46 rooms, a beverage room, banquet hall and modern lunch counter and coffee bar. The hotel has been operating for the past month, but didn't swing into full time operation until Tuesday when the cafe section of the structure opened its doors to the public.

Stettler Hotel Offers Best Accommodation, Service

By TOMMY GRAHAM
The most modern, elaborately equipped and furnished hotel in central Alberta is the new Stettler hotel.
In fact, the new hotel, may be classed as one of the finest in western Canada.
Streamline in design and construction, the three-story structure was erected and equipped at the cost of $325,000.
It is located in downtown Stettler, at the southwest corner of the town's busiest intersection, Main Street and Alberta Avenue.
This was the site of the old National hotel which was gutted by fire in 1946.
No expense was spared in making the new Stettler a hotel that would do credit to any city, and it is truly a Stettler showplace.

The premises houses 46 rooms, a huge banquet hall, beverage room and a fully modern lunch counter and coffee bar.
The building was designed by the firm of Stevenson, Cawston and Stevenson, of Calgary, while the Poole Construction Company Limited, of Edmonton and Calgary, were the contractors.
A number of Calgary, Red Deer and Edmonton firms assisted in the construction.
Inside and out the building is one of their beauty.
The exterior is of reinforced concrete and brick with black vitrolite tile enhancing the attractiveness of the face of the premises.

The first floor is the location of the lunch counter and coffee bar, the hotel office, rotunda and beverage rooms.
Twenty-three rooms are located on each of the second and third floors.
Of the rooms, 16 contain private baths, 12 have wash basins, while the remainder boast of a walk-in wash room closet, the latest hotel accommodation innovation.

NICELY DECORATED
Every room is outfitted with venetian blinds, the latest in lighting fixtures, attractive draperies and carpets. Each room is attractively decorated with various pastel washrooms and several storage rooms.
The basement houses a huge banquet room, capable of accommodating 150 patrons, a spacious and modern kitchen, the boiler room, washrooms and several storage rooms.

A huge and luxuriously furnished lounge gives the structure a "big city hotel" appearance" and the atmosphere predominates throughout the rest of the building.

Unlucky Fishermen

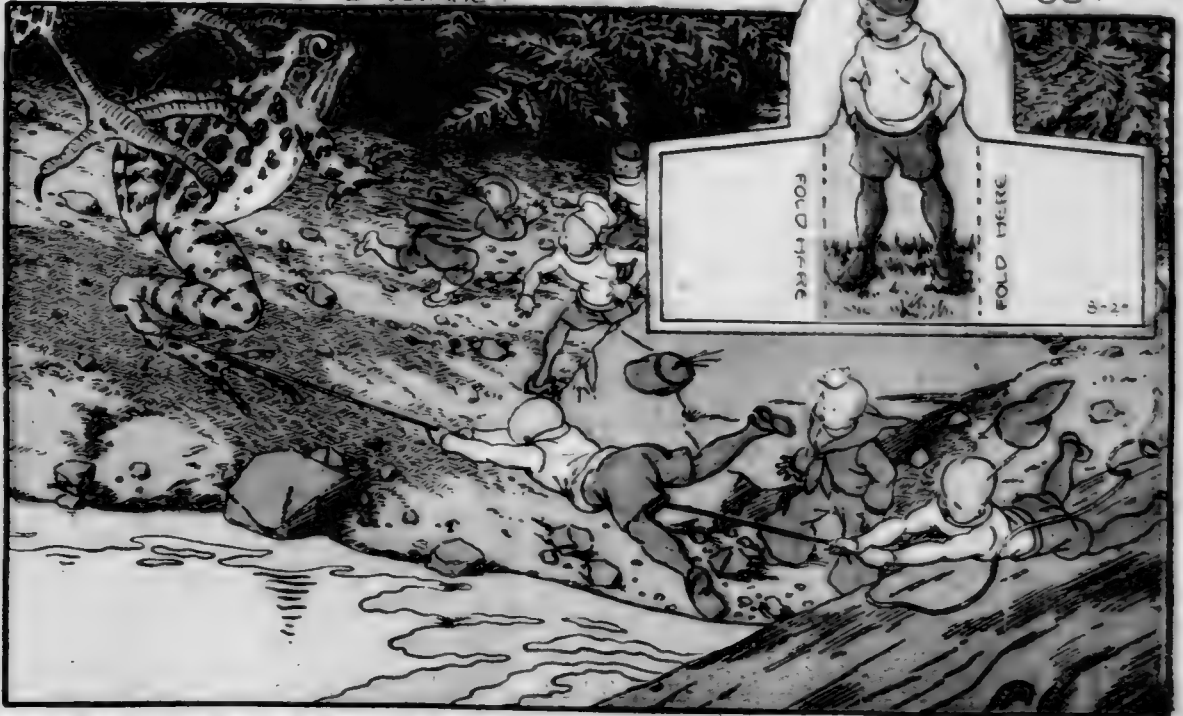

DURING July and August the Teenie Weenies are mighty busy. Many vegetables in the Teenie Weenie garden are ready to be harvested and the hunting season is at its height because frogs are plentiful at that time. The little folk depend almost entirely on frog hams for their meat and a great many frogs must be caught to supply the village through the Winter. First, the frogs must be taken and then comes the work of smoking the hams. It takes about 40 hams to provide the Teenie Weenies with meat during the Winter. That means they must capture 10 frogs. From these they cure 20 big hams and several shoulder hams. Then some of the shoulder meat is made into sausage. All this means a tremendous lot of work.

In spite of the hard work the little men enjoy hunting frogs. It is exciting and sometimes dangerous, for some frogs are large and powerful. The best frogs are found along the creek and in a little pond near the creek. Frogs are not afraid of the Teenie Weenies and seldom jump into the water when the little men come near. Teenie Weenies are so very small a frog sits quietly until the men are near enough to throw a rope over his head or about one of his legs. The moment the rope touches the frog he leaps into the water. That is a most exciting time. Sometimes a frog escapes, and a short time ago the Teenie Weenies caught a frog that was stolen almost before they had caught it.

The tiny men discovered a big frog sunning himself on an old log that lay partly in the water. The

THE TEENIE WEEENIES

BY WM DONAHUE

Turt and the Dunce slipped quietly up behind the frog while several other Teenie Weenies hid behind a big stone near by to watch the excitement. The Turt dropped the noose of his lasso over one of the frog's hind feet sticking out over the edge of the log. When he jerked the noose tight around the frog's leg, it leaped up into the air. In the excitement of roping the frog, the Teenie Weenies had not noticed a big hawk flying overhead. At the moment the frog jumped, the hawk dived down and snatched the frog away from the little hunters. The Turk and the Duncie were pulled off the log and thrown into the water. Though they got a complete wetting, neither of the little chaps was hurt, but they were mighty angry over losing the frog.

"It's just plain robbery! That's what it is!" exclaimed the Turk. "That was our frog."

"A frog is not yours until it's caught," laughed the Sailor. "Besides, that hawk has to eat just the same as we do."
